

Gregory Burns and Peter Burns

Gregory Burns

Greg graduated from Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture in 1979 with a BS in Horticulture and from Penn State University in 1984 with a Med. in Extension Education. He then worked for Penn State Cooperative Extension for almost 20 years as a horticulture specialist.

Greg has extensive on-farm experience having worked on many different operations as well as starting Heritage Farm in 1991. In 2008 he authored "Growing A Heritage: Our Own Small Farm Story" based on the history and philosophy of his farm enterprise. The book gives recommendations on sustainable production and marketing strategies and lays out a consistent philosophy of living that provides a superior quality of life for the small farm family.

Peter Burns

Pete was born and raised on Heritage Farm and has known no other life besides farming. The family farm grew along with Pete and his siblings.

In 2004 Pete interned with Joel Salatin on Polyface Farm near Staunton, Virginia. Since the internship, Pete has been implementing the natural, sustainable, livestock agriculture techniques he learned from Polyface on Heritage Farm and is currently fully employed on the farm. Pete is also a recent graduate of Whitefield College holding a Bachelor of Arts in Christian Studies.
